

Lonergan University College announces its Interdisciplinary Seminars for 1999-2000

Constance Classen

Distinguished Scholar,
Author of The Color of Angels
(1998), Worlds of Sense (1993),
and Co-author of Aroma (1994)

Under the direction of Dr. Classen, two courses will be offered at Lonergan College.

LUCC 398C/2

(The Colour of Angels: Spirituality and the Senses)
and

LUCC 398D/4

(Painted Feasts and Perfumed Concerts: Art and the Senses).
These courses will be interrelated but may be taken independently of each other.

Other Lonergan Courses during 1999-2000 are:

LUCC 202/2 AND/4

The Creative Self

LUCC 298B/2

Introduction to selected
Interdisciplinary Problems:
Science and Human Values

LUCC 298C/2

Introduction to Selected
Interdisciplinary
Problems: Peace Studies

LUCC 441/4

Issues in Contemporary Values: Cross-Culture

All Lonergan courses are open to all students.

For further information please call Lonergan College (848-2280), or visit us on the web at <http://artscicwin.concordia.ca/lonergan>

Real education for the real world
www.concordia.ca

THE COLOUR OF ANGELS: Spirituality and the Senses

PAINTED FEASTS AND PERFUMED CONCERTS: Art and the Senses

How are our senses shaped by culture? What is the spiritual life of the senses? How have mystics and artists envisioned the senses? Do men's and women's senses differ? What is the future of the senses in cyberspace? The exploration of the rich sensory symbolism of Western culture crosses disciplines and eras, taking us from the visions of medieval mystics to the dreamscapes of the Surrealists to the virtual realities of modern technology.